A BRILLIANT FUTURE.

The outlook for Hawaii in a business and commercial way is exceedingly bright. Never before in the history of the Islands has the future seemed so assured as it is now. A new treaty with England providing for the abrogation of the old Clayton-Bulwer treaty and for the building of an isthmian canal by the United States which shall be owned and controlled by this country is now about ready for the signatures of the high contracting parties.

That this new treaty will be satisfactory to the United States is assured in advance. President McKinley and Secretary Hay took occasion last spring to ascertain from the members of the Senate the character of treaty that would be approved by that body. Lord Pauncefoot, the British ambassador, also took great interest in the subject and it is largely due to his efforts with the British ministry that the new treaty has been agreed to. Lord Pauncefoot has been Minister and Ambassador to America for so long that he has become thoroughly acquainted with the temper of the American public and he knew very well the sort of treaty that would be accepted by the American people. Great Britain would not lose anything by acceding to American wishes in the isthmus while her commerce would be greatly benefited by the construction of the canal. Beside that Great Britain finds herself confronted by a coalition of the other nations of Europe and she could well afford to make some concessions to the giant of the Western World in return for the friendship of that giant.

Following the announcement of the terms of the new treaty comes the announcement that the French Company which owns the uncompleted Panama canal are anxious to sell their property to the United States and that the Canal Commission appointed two years ago to thoroughly investigate the various canal routes and the cost of a canal now favor purchasing the Panama property if it can be had at a reasonable price.

With all this good news comes the information that Attorney-General Knox will recommend to the President that any American Cable Company acting under a charter granted by any of the States or Territories is entitled to land its cables any place on American soil. This means that the proposed Pacific Cable will be constructed by the Mackay-Bennett Cable Company thus placing Hawaii in direct communication with the rest of the world.

As is shown by special correspondence from Washington, published elsewhere in this morning's Republican, President Roosevelt is even a more enthusiastic supporter of the isthmian canal than was President McKinley and he will urge upon Congress in his first message the importance of building the canal as quickly as possible.

With the new treaty ratified by the Senate there seems no doubt that a bill providing for the construction of an isthmian canal will promptly pass Congress at the coming session. Work on the cable will be begun as soon as the company is assured of its landing rights and privileges and with the construction of these two Pacific enterprises Honolulu will become the great entre-port of this vast ocean of commerce.

The future of the Mid-Pacific city is exceedingly bright. Ten years hence will see Honolulu a rival of any city on the coast in population, wealth and trade.

President McKinley is demonstrating his determination to build up a white Republican party in the South. The time is certainly ripe for the effort and from an intimate acquaintance with the South and Southern people we believe the President's efforts will be crowned with success. His first appointment away from the old line was that of ex-Governor Jones of Alabama to be United States District Judge for the Northern District of that State. This has been followed by the appointment, at the request of the President, of John G. Capers to be Republican National Committeeman for the State of South Carolina. Capers was a life-long Democrat until recently, but he is an expansionist and a protectionist and sound money man, and on these vital questions of policy finally allied himself with the Republican party. It is said that the President in appointing a new Collector of Internal Revenue for South Carolina will recognize another man—W. C. Blalock—who has been a life-long Democrat but who on the great questions now before the people is a Republican.

The Republican is glad that President Roosevelt has seen fit to recognize the recommendation of Judge Estee by appointing Eugene H. Hendry United States Marshal for Hawaii. Mr. Hendry is a most capable man in any position as he has fully demonstrated in his various positions of trust in this Territory. In making the appointment the President recognized the doctrine of home rule. He also recognized the Republican organization of the Territory. Mr. Hendry rendered most efficient service to the party last year as secretary of the Territorial central committee and he was heartily endorsed by the central committee for his new post. As chief office deputy under Marshal Ray, Mr. Hendry practically had charge of all the duties of the office for more than a year past as the age and ill-health of Mr. Ray virtually disqualified him from performing the duties of the office. In this position Mr. Hendry rendered most efficient services and that he will continue to render equally as good services in the chief command is assured.

AMUSEMENTS.

Yesterday's matinee and last night's performance of the Barnard Circus were attended by large crowds, the tent being full to its capacity on both occasions. The school children had full sway in the afternoon and the sound of laughter in childish treble greeted the passersby on Hotel street. The little ones were very much pleased with the tricks of the rope-walkers, the dog acts, and found cause for wide-eyed wonderment in the remarkable contortionist work of La Petite Ethel. The clowns and the monkeys also came in for a share of the merriment, and the trained pony and educated horse received enthusiastic applause. While the pink lemonade man and the peanut-vender gathered in a harvest of nickels and dimes.

ATTORNEYS' AFFIDAVITS ARE MUCH AT VARIANCE

T. McCants Stewart Asks For $150 and Magoon Refuses to Pay the Fee Out of the Cummings' Estate.

There is something of a mix-up over a fee for professional services claimed by Attorney T. McCants Stewart, which has come to light through the filing of affidavits by both Attorneys J. A. Magoon and T. McCants Stewart in the matter of the estate of W. H. Cummings, deceased.

The fee claimed was in the matter of a motion ordering the administrator to pay certain money to T. B. Cummings. The statements of Magoon and Stewart are somewhat at variance, as shown by their affidavits.

Attorney Stewart states that Magoon, without giving notice to him, the attorney in the case, made a motion by which certain funds were turned over to Magoon, and that when Stewart asked for his fee he was informed by Magoon that the debt was repudiated by Cummings.

Stewart then took Cummings to Magoon's office. Cummings acknowledged the debt and pleaded that he was unable to settle it, saying that he was hard-up. Stewart agreed to take $100 if it was paid at once.

On the other hand Magoon swears that he never knew that Stewart was the attorney for Cummings and that there has been nothing done to warrant a fee of $150 and no motion, such as that spoken of by Stewart, was ever made by him personally, though it was made by the firm of Magoon & Thompson.

Magoon goes on to say that he was never present at any meeting with Cummings when Cummings acknowledged the fee debt, and states further that Cummings renounced Stewart as his attorney before the motion was made.

The Oratorio Society.

A new society for the production of oratorio and similar concert work met for the first time Friday night in Punaluani hall. The nucleus of this society is mainly formed by the ladies and gentlemen who sang Haydn's "Creation" last night, but a good many new members have applied and were present at the meeting. Rehearsal was started at once with the music of Handel's "Messiah," which they expect to present some time this winter. Prof. Bellasus hopes to bring the membership to about one hundred. Rehearsals are held every Friday at 8 p. m. in Punaluani hall and new applications will be received at any time. Among those present Friday night were: Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mrs. F. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, Mrs. Thos. Richards, Misses Ethel Cameron, Laura Cook, Blanche Frost, Florence Ina Sarah Lyman, Alice Brown, Gertrude Brown, Bessie Johnson, Florence Osborne, Amy Roe, Helen K. Sorenson, Dagmar Sorenson, Messrs. A. Benson, G. Beardsley, Dr. G. W. Burgess, W. W. Campbell, E. L. Collins, E. L. Connelley, W. H. Fether, J. B. McClellan, C. Du Roi F. Melchers.

U. S. Marshal Hendry.

United States Marshal Eugene H. Hendry, appointed by Judge M. M. Estee on the death of Marshal Ray, has been formally appointed by President Roosevelt. Marshal Hendry has not yet appointed the deputy.

ANOTHER SERIES OF ACCIDENTS ON MAUI

Quite a Chapter of Them at Wailuku in Two Weeks.

ONE ACCIDENT RESULTS IN FATALITY

MANAGER OF SCHRADER'S HOTEL FALLS AND HURTS HIMSELF BADLY.

Death of Young Leslie Baldwin a Sad Event on Maui—Flags at Half-Mast—Interesting News Notes of Various Parts of Island.

(Special Correspondence.)

WAILUKU, Oct. 18.—Wailuku district is noted as the scene of many accidents for the past two weeks, and there is hardly a time which can be recalled during which so many accidents occurred within a short period of two weeks. Last week's chapter of accidental occurrences have already been published and there are equally as many this week.

On last Sunday, Ah Young, a prominent Chinese in Kahului, and owner of the firm of Chong Yuen & Co., fell from his horse at Camp V, and inflicted a deep gash in his head. He was riding in company with his book-keeper on a business trip, somehow or other his horse took fright at the railroad crossing in Camp V, and upset the carriage. Ah Young was rendered unconscious for a time, and a stream of blood gushed from his head, where it was found that a deep hole had been made. Ah Young was immediately brought to his home at Kahului where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Soga. His book-keeper was not injured much beyond a few scratches. On Monday there was a report that Ah Young had died from the injuries he received, but upon further inquiry it was found that he was lying comfortably in bed. Ah Young has improved since Sunday, but he is still unable to get out of bed.

On Monday last, Asaka, a Japanese in the employ of the Kahului Railroad Co., had both of his legs badly mangled from the passage of an engine over them. He was taken to the Malulu Hospital on the same afternoon where he suffered intense pain from his injuries. He died yesterday from the effects of the injuries, and the funeral took place today at 1 o'clock. A long train of hacks and vehicles followed the remains to the church where services were held over the body.

On Tuesday evening, G. D. Schrader, of Schrader's Hotel, fell from a porch on his veranda and sustained severe injuries on several parts of his body. Mr. Schrader was immediately attended to by his physician, and a telegram was sent to his son George B. Schrader of Honolulu, to return to Maui by the first opportunity. George arrived this morning by the Maui at Kihel, and upon his arrival found out the cause of his being called to Maui so suddenly. Mr. Schrader is much better now, and there are bright hopes of his recovery.

F. Alexander of Hamakuaopoko fell from his horse last Thursday and had his arm dislocated. It seems that he had a rather spirited horse which caused the accident. It is causing great pain. Mr. Alexander is head luna at Hamakuaopoko and was to be one of the pallbearers at the funeral of Leslie Baldwin, but on account of the accident he could not carry out his task.

Mrs. Stender, beloved wife of A. K. Stender of Wailuku, died at the residence of her parents in Paia, of typhoid fever last Tuesday. Mrs. Stender had been sick for about six weeks and at times it seemed as if she would pass away. Her attending physician had given up hope two weeks before her death. She died last Tuesday and was buried the following day at 12 o'clock noon. The pallbearers were Messrs. H. Streubek, T. B. Brien, S. B. Harry, J. Hansen, W. G. Scott and W. G. Ogg. A husband and six children survive her. Mrs. Stender had quite a circle of friends, and she will be greatly missed by those who knew her best. Mr. Stender is head-carpenter of the Wailuku Sugar Co.

Leslie Baldwin's Death.

Leslie Baldwin, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, died at the family residence in Hamakuaopoko of dysentery last Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Leslie had been sick for some time, and it was on his account that the little tug "Leslie Baldwin" (named after the dead child), was sent to Honolulu last week on a special trip. The tug went to Honolulu to bring Dr. W. C. Baldwin up, and also another doctor in Honolulu if it was possible. Dr. Baldwin arrived, and it seemed that young Leslie Baldwin was improving. However he was not able to struggle through, and passed away at 2 o'clock last Wednesday to the deep sorrow of his parents, his many relatives, and friends who join the sorrow-stricken parents. Services over the body of the child were held at H. A. Baldwin's house yesterday by Dr. Beckwith, and a very large number of friends were in attendance. The pallbearers were Dr. F. W. McKinley and Messrs. R. O. Hogg, B. D. Baldwin and Dr. W. Baldwin. The services at Hamakuaopoko were very impressive. From Hamakuaopoko the many vehicles in which were Leslie's relatives besides other friends, proceeded to the cemetery at Makawao. All day yesterday flags were at half-mast on the ship-ping at Kahului as well as on other poles from Hamakuaopoko to Kahului out of respect for the dead child.

SECRETARY COOPER IS FINDING OUT HOW MATTERS STAND AT WASHINGTON

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Mr. Henry E. Cooper, Secretary of the Territory of Hawaii, and for a considerable time during the summer Acting Governor of the Territory, by grace of Governor Dole, has been in Washington for the last ten days, acting as a member of a committee of one to ascertain the lay of things. Mr. Cooper came here for the announced purpose of fetching along the report of Governor Dole for the last fiscal year. Mr. Cooper, of course, wrote most, if not all of the report, because he was the only man competent to write that part of it that covers the time in which he himself acted as Governor.

But that was not the real reason for the coming of Mr. Cooper. The Governors of other Territories in these United States do not feel called upon to send their reports to Washington by a special messenger, at a considerable cost to the government. The United States mails were gotten up and are operated for just such things as that, and the government announces that its registered mail is a perfectly safe way in which to send documents that are valuable or that are considered valuable.

When Mr. Cooper reached here he went to the Cochran Hotel, and some newspaper reporters called upon him to inquire whether it were true that Governor Dole had sent his resignation to Washington at the hands of Mr. Cooper. Poor, poor, remarked Mr. Cooper. Governor Dole had no intention of resigning, unless his health became much worse. The Governor stood well with everybody. Mr. Cooper said, and there would be a great howl both in Washington and in Hawaii were he to resign his office.

All of this tickled the newspaper reporters of the town, who have been learning things lately about Hawaiian affairs, and writing about them. However, the statement that Mr. Cooper did not bring on the resignation of Governor Dole had to be accepted. Then Mr. Cooper went to call upon the Secretary of the Interior to pay his respects, and to announce that presently he would hand to the Secretary the first annual report of Mr. Dole. He has since handed in the previous document.

That was more than a week ago, and since then Mr. Cooper has been attending to the work for which he came to Washington. The Dole ring in Hawaii wants to know what effect the visit of Judge Humphreys, of Honolulu, has had upon their fortunes here. They could have found out all about that by reading the report of the Attorney General of the United States upon the charges against Judge Humphreys, but they wanted the thing first hand from one of their own men, and they are getting it. Mr. Cooper has found out since he has been here that the Dole ring is not in high favor in Washington, because it does not attend to its own business. That is the great fault with it. The government of the United States wants its men in the territories to attend to the government of the territories, and then all will be well. And when Mr. Cooper goes back to Honolulu he will carry with him the information that hereafter, owing to the disclosures made by Judge Humphreys in his brief to the Attorney General, and in the great newspapers of America, the government at Washington will feel obliged to keep an eye on the Dole administration, and hold it Dole personally, strictly to account for any repetition of the things that have gone forward there.

It is understood that presently there will be made to President Roosevelt representations that Governor Dole is not a fit person to exercise the office of Governor of an important territory like Hawaii, and that the President will be asked to request his resignation, and to appoint in his stead a man with American notions of government and business. President Roosevelt is already taking a deep interest in Hawaiian affairs. He is a natural born reformer, and he does not hesitate, when the time comes, to have a general house-cleaning of officials in any branch of the government. In fact, that is what first gave Roosevelt his reputation, and he is not departing from that first policy at this time as he has already announced to several uneasy Senators who have called upon him.

E. S. L.

The tug Leslie Baldwin also had a flag at half-mast.

At the funeral yesterday at 3 o'clock there were present members of all the companies on Maui which is controlled by Messrs. Alexander & Co. There were representatives from H. C. & S. Co., Paia Plantation Co., Haiku Sugar Co., Kahului Railroad Co., Kahului Store and Kihel Plantation Co. On account of the death of young Leslie a special steamer was chartered in Honolulu to bring W. O. Smith to Maui this morning, and Mr. Smith feels the loss of this child with the greatest of sorrow.

Maui Notes.

The news of the Columbia's second victory over the Shamrock II reached Maui on last Sunday by the gasoline schooner Eclipse. She brought a foreign mail, and as soon as it was learned that a mail had reached Lahaina, there were numerous inquiries over the telephone as to which yacht had won the America Cup.

The dance at the Windsor pavilion last Saturday night was by far the most enjoyable given so far at that resort. The special train from Paia and Spreckelsville was crowded with passengers, many of whom came especially for the dance.

Flags are still at half-mast at the Wailuku court house, Judge Kepolai's and Judge Kalua's, out of respect for the late President. Wailuku mourns the death of our beloved chief with very much regret.

ROOSEVELT CHILDREN.

Miss Ethel Attending the National Cathedral School for Girls.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Ethel Roosevelt, the ten-year-old daughter of the President, is now well established as a day pupil at the National Cathedral School for Girls. She entered the school last Wednesday, driving out in the bus with other day scholars. She is in the primary department in the school, and color work, clay modelling, gymnastics and calisthenics and a system of outdoor biological study play an important part in her school duties. The Cathedral School is one of the most modern and foremost institutions of its character in this country. In 1898 an estate of thirty-one acres on Mount Saint Alban was bought for the site of the future Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. Within this, at the corner of the Tennallytown and Woodley roads in the suburbs of Washington, the cathedral stands, a superb structure in the Italian renaissance style, built of Indian limestone, which, as its cornerstone declares, is dedicated to "Christ and His Children."

This building, the Cathedral school has been erected at a cost of $200,000, and will accommodate seventy boarding pupils and one hundred day pupils.

In order to catch the school coach, which leaves Dupont Circle at 8 o'clock in the morning, little Miss Ethel must be an early riser, and has breakfast about a quarter past 7. She leaves the White House before 8 o'clock in the morning and returns about 5:30 in the afternoon. She has a hot luncheon at noon at the school, this being served in order to make it possible for the young pupils to remain during the afternoon.

Kismet finished his first week at the University School for Boys, about ten minutes' walk from the White House, where he is taking the regular course preparatory to entering college. He leaves early in the morning and returns about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, doing his studying at home.

RECEPTION YESTERDAY TO MR. AND MRS. A. AHLO

guests were ushered by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Damon, while Mr. C. Amara acted as usher in showing the guests through the rooms of the new residence. From 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock the residence was thronged with guests, and the driveway was lined with carriages. In the big tent the five hundred who were entertained partook of an elaborate collation of dainties under the supervision of Mrs. F. W. Damon.

The Solomon Quintette Club hidden in a bower of palms on the west lawn furnished vocal and instrumental music throughout the afternoon. The reception was one of the most elegant and brilliant affairs of the season and the cordial spirit of hospitality for which the Ahlos are famous made it one of the most enjoyable.

THE MURPHY CLUB.

Entertainment at Hall in Waverley Block Last Evening.

The entertainment at the Murphy Club last evening was a very successful and pleasant one, a large crowd being in attendance.

The members of Francis Murphy Club No. 1 wish to publicly thank those who took part in the entertainment. The collection of the evening amounted to $4.10, and the members of the club are grateful for such financial assistance. Other help that the public may feel disposed to give to the Temperance Union will be very much appreciated.

The program was as follows: Guitar solo (encored).....Ernest Kaai Instrumental.....Mendelssohn Club (Ernest Kaai F. F. Fernandez, A. K. Nawahi, W. H. Holo-kahiki, guitar).
